ABOUT THE INDIAN CONCLAVE

The Indian Conclave is a Youth Organisation run majorly by students who are under the age of 18 and this organization largely works on conducting a plethora of activities pertaining to capacity building, personality development, leadership cultivation and cultural exchange programs for the youth.

The idea of TIC was born amidst the initial days of the pandemic when schools were shut and activities had ceased. The concept emerged with a motive to connect the Youth of the globe through multiple simulations that promote academic and extracurricular interests. We take pride in simulating events such as Youth Parliaments, Model United Nations conferences, Parliamentary debates and interaction sessions with eminent personalities across the spectrum.

In this third edition we have our theme as Suraksha Bharat, as this year we urge to contribute to the COVID'19 relief measures and hence we are hosting a series of activities as a fund raising initiative. As always we shall never compromise on our quality and shall thrive to provide our participants the best possible experience.

MENTAL HEALTH

Owing to the pandemic, it was surely a hard time for many of us. May it be staying away from our loved ones, losing our family members or getting crushed due to the uncertainty of the long-awaited competitive examinations, this national crisis has taken a toll on our mental health. Adapting to this new norm wasn't the best experience for all of us.

The Indian Conclave believes that mental health issues have no bounds of age and region and must be equally valued as mental health and physical health.

We have collaborated with Kavach, a venture taken up to help the youth prepare beforehand for all the obstacles that might come their way while choosing the best career. Along with this, Kavach prioritizes mental health of students and conducts sessions that help them cope with stress management, lack of motivation, young-age depression and other mental health issues.

MENTAL HEALTH

Join us on the 22nd of May to learn more and practice calming yourself and adapting to the new norm!

Receive guidance from trained psychologists and professional mental health advocates in areas of exam uncertainty and future plans, dealing with grief and loss & mental health during isolation.

Even during these dark times, we are with you! Let's all equally prioritise mental health and aim for #SurakshaBharat.

LEGAL SERIES

The objective of this series is to help students of law across the country look at specific areas of practise post their graduation in close proximity through prominent practitioners in the respective field who will enlighten the participants about the intricacies and nuances of practise and in the process give an overview of their experience. The speakers invited for the respective segments of the workshop series will also discuss with the participants, their work life in the field along with prominent cases they have dealt with in their career, thereby helping students vicariously experience and more so understand practising in its essence. One session of the workshop series also deals with LLM so as to provide guidance to the students on the following questions

YOUTH PARLIAMENT

AarogyaRakshatiRakshitaha

Protect your health and your health shall protect you.

Keeping the exponentially rising Covid cases in mind coupled with a dozen of medical equipments, resources and vaccines at supply shortages compared to a drastically high demand, The Indian Conclave takes pride in launching its Youth Parliament as a means for a Covid-Fundraising Initiative. The proceeds of the delegation fees + fees for individual shall be used for the Covid relief work.

Hence The Indian Conclave is glad to invite the future leaders of Bharat to participate in this simulation and help us contribute for the society.
